SAIGON (AP) — North and South Vietnamese forces battled for a district town 75 miles north of Saigon today as the United States began an air-and-sea bombardment of North Vietnam in retaliation for the North Vietnamese offensive across the demilitarized zone.

As the offensive rolled into its second week, the North Vietnamese kept up their attacks on their other fronts, in the north below the DMZ where they invaded last Thursday, and in the central highlands.

North of Saigon, elements of three North Vietnamese divisions were reported to have poured across the Cambodian border and surrounded the district town of Loc Ninh, five miles below the border.

Highway 13 between Loc Ninh and An Loc, the provincial capital of Binh Long Province 15 miles to the south, was reported unsafe. An Loc itself was threatened from the north, east and west, field reports said. The highway was reported open from An Loc to Saigon but dangerous, and traffic was restricted.

South Vietnamese troops of the 5th Division were encountering heavy resistance outside Loc Ninh. One officer in the field said casualties on both sides were heavy.

"There is no count," he said, "but there are many, many casualties."

Official Vietnamese sources said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of the 3rd Military Region, met with Gen. Creighton W. Abrams to request more U.S. air support.

Heat Begins Simmering Down In Canadian-Cuban Relations

OTTAWA (CP) — Relations between Canada and Cuba appeared to be easing back to normal after a stormy 26 hours followed the fatal bombing Tuesday of the Cuban trade mission in Montreal.

One of the more than 20 Cubans at the mission died as a result of the blast and six others were arrested in a tangle with police in which guns were levelled, an inspector's nose punched and files destroyed.

Cuban Premier Fidel Castro levelled a blistering speech at Canada's ability to protect diplomatic guests and accused Montreal police of "brutal and Fascist methods."

"We understand his concern over this deplorable event," external affairs replied in a statement here, adding that the pursuit of the culprits—believed to be Cubans living in the U.S.—is being given highest priority.

Cuban Ambassador Jose de Cossio and acting External Affairs Minister C. M. Drury were expected to meet today and possibly work out the tangled diplomatic status of the mission and its representatives.

The snarling began to die after Dr. de Cossio went to Montreal, where he allowed investigators to search the ruins of the mission for clues. Police said later the bomb that killed Sergio Perez, 25, and ripped the top floor off a 12-storey building was among the largest ever in Montreal. An autopsy Wednesday revealed Perez bled to death from multiple glass cuts.

Later the Cuban consulate was opened to the Montreal bomb squad for a thorough search after a tip that a bomb was planted there and set to explode at midnight Wednesday. None was found despite an exhaustive search of the premises.

B.C. Socreds 'Rarin' To Go' For Election Next Month

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Social Credit party is "rarin' to go" for a provincial election in May, party president George Driedger said Wednesday.

Mr. Driedger denied having any inside information from Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

"I just have that feeling that it's time to have the party organization ready," he said in an interview.

The party president said in a letter to party constituency officials throughout the province earlier this year that he expected the government to seek a new mandate "as early as May" and set for them the goal of increasing party membership by 5,000 by June.

"We have just about made that goal," he said Wednesday. "We have our membership up to where we like to have it at election time."

Although acknowledging that Premier Bennett could call an election for June or August, Mr. Driedger said there are "enough issues at hand" that an election could be called now to the party's benefit.

He specifically mentioned the current dispute over education costs and teachers' salaries, saying the government has "good public support throughout the province" on the government's move to control costs.

"But I haven't discussed it with the premier for several months, and I don't know what his feeling is," Mr. Driedger added.

Only four Social Credit candidates out of a possible slate of 55 have been nominated to date, but five more will be named within the next week and the party is geared to holding nominating meetings at a rapid pace if need be, he said.

Irked Trudeau Cancels Meet With 50 World Businessmen

OTTAWA (CP) — A planned three-day closed briefing for 50 top international businessmen by Prime Minister Trudeau and members of his cabinet has been cancelled, the prime minister's office said today.

A spokesman said the meeting, planned for April 17-19, has been called off because promotional material used by Business International Executive Services "created a situation and atmosphere that was not conducive to good discussions."

The prime minister's office objected to Business International's promise to businessmen that they would have a chance to persuade the Canadian government to alter its proposed new policy on foreign ownership.

Mr. Trudeau's office was upset by publicity given to the meeting Wednesday, and demanded an explanation from Business International's head office in New York.

The organization had intended to charge fees of $600 each for businessmen attending the three-day meeting. They were expected to pay their own travel and hotel expenses in addition.

The spokesman expressed some regret that the meeting had to be called off, because "it could have been useful." The cabinet meets regularly with associations of Canadian businessmen, and had looked forward to private talks with international businessmen.

Hang Me! Says Killer

ADELAIDE, Australia (Reuter) — A convicted murderer asked officially today for the second time to be hanged.

English-born migrant Dennis Lawrence submitted his demand to the South Australian Supreme Court.

He asked the authorities to explain why they have not performed their duty of carrying out the death sentence he received for murdering an Adelaide car dealer in September, 1970.

Lawrence, 45, who was last week denied his first application, has given no indication of why he wants to be hanged.

He was originally sentenced to death after pleading guilty to the murder but his sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment.

A SNOW JOB BY WEATHERMAN

MONTREAL (CP) — Montrealers trudging through blowing snow in the downtown area Wednesday could take heart—the weather office said it wasn't in the forecast.

Asked how much snow was likely to fall, the office at the international airport in suburban Dorval said there would be no accumulation.

Told that blizzard-like conditions were being experienced in the downtown area, the weather office spokesman replied:

"I know. It's the same way out here."

"Well, then, how much snow are we going to get?"

"None," was the reply. "And it will end by tonight."

Quebec Unions Cut Off Talks

QUEBEC (CP) — Leaders of a common front of unions representing 210,000 public service employees broke off contract talks with the Quebec government Wednesday night, vowing not to return to the bargaining table until the government indicates it will negotiate seriously.

The unions told reporters their negotiators will be available at any time to resume contract talks. Their only stipulation is that Quebec modify "substantially" its offers for job security and salaries—two major issues in negotiations.

Government negotiator Reynald Langlois said there would be no "in extremis" offer to lure unions back to negotiations. Earlier, Jean-Paul L'Allier, civil service minister, rejected a common front demand that he participate in the negotiations, under way since late March.

The common front leaders had indicated it was time for political action to spur negotiations.

In announcing that talks had been suspended, the unions dismissed suggestions that a second general strike will be called immediately. But they said a

Flood Threat May Be Less

VICTORIA (CP) — Officials of the provincial water investigation branch said Wednesday last month's warm weather probably eased the chance of major spring flooding.

The chief of the hydrology division, Harry Hunter, said the warm weather reduced the water equivalent in snowpacks at lower elevations to the point where it now is below normal. He said this is general across the southern half of B.C., with the exception of the Similkameen Valley.

But he warned there was an increase in the snowpack above the 5,000-foot level.

Mr. Hunter said there are record snowpacks at high elevations in the upper Columbia, Similkameen, the Thompson River basin, the Barkerville and Nechako areas.

"There are still three months to go, and much depends on the weather," he said. "If we get warm weather for the next month the situation will ease considerably. If we get cold weather the melt will tighten up."

Mr. Hunter said May will be the key month. If the snowpack melt is even and consistent and spread over some time, the province's major rivers will have higher than normal levels, but will not flood.

Berlin Wall Creaks Shut

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany closed the Berlin wall to West Berliners today, ending an Easter holiday period of visits to East Berlin and East Germany.

Border guards also resumed close control of West Berlin's traffic to and from West Germany.

An estimated 500,000 West Berliners had gone East in eight days over Easter.

Great Lakes Plan Agreed

OTTAWA (CP) — The United States and Canada have reached final agreement on a massive program to clean up pollution on the Great Lakes, authoritative sources said today.

The agreement, under negotiation since last fall, sets out water quality standards for the lakes and envisages a vast program of construction of sewage treatment facilities on both the Canadian and U.S. sides.

The construction program is expected to cost more than $2 billion with the United States bearing the major burden since most of the facilities will be in the U.S.

New Official For District Dismayed At Indifference

Lack of proper planning in the Regional District of Central Okanagan has been criticized by a man who has been employed by the board and city of Kelowna since March 1.

D. W. Barcham became the first planner for the region and city March 1. He replaced regional planner W. G. Hardcastle and city planner G. P. Stevens, who left last year.

Wednesday night the board authorized Mr. Barcham to study land uses along Highway 97, near Kelowna airport, and in Okanagan Mission.

During a long discussion, it was pointed out some developers had been waiting for answers since before Mr. Barcham was hired, and it was unfair to make the wait much longer.

THREE GROUNDS

"The time has come to take a firm stand on sprawled and ribbon development," he said. "And on the question of speculative rezoning and land-use contract applications. Development policies based on sound planning concepts are imperative. Such policies, publicly expressed through legislation, resolution and practice, reflect the aims and ambitions of the community. They provide developers and other businessmen with obvious and equitable terms of reference."

This paragraph was part of a report on a request by Strathcona Developments Ltd., for a land-use contract for an industrial development on the Old Vernon Road. The planner agreed with the technical planning committee the request should be refused on three grounds:

—It would be hard to establish suitable drainage and septic systems because of the soil.

—The site is on the airport flight path, and there could be problems with building heights and air emissions, such as are being experienced at Penticton.

—It would enlarge the industrial area, while the existing area is unconsolidated.

M. C. Jennings, who represents that area, said another public health inspector said a septic tank could be put there, air emissions would be controlled by the land-use contract, and the development would consolidate the industrial area.

Mayor Hilbert Roth of Kelowna suggested Mr. Jennings and D. A. Pritchard, director for Lakeview Heights, should not speak or vote on the matter because they work for the real estate company promoting the development. Both said they were not personally involved, and felt they should speak on matters concerning their areas.

"The board suggested a land-use contract," pointed out Mel Marshall, director for Rutland.

Mr. Jennings suggested tabling the matter.

"The planner has made his recommendation," said Mayor Roth. "We should vote on it."

'Hodgepodge' Of Development

"We have obligations to people who own land adjacent to the airport," said James Stuart, director for east and southeast Kelowna.

The board voted to not approve the contract, and directed the planning to prepare a developments plan for the area within two miles of the airport. Mr. Jennings and Mr. Pritchard abstained. They did the same when the matter was discussed earlier this year, again at the suggestion of Mayor Roth.

There is a "hodgepodge of hodgepodge" along Highway 97 from Glenmore Street to Duck Lake near Winfield, Mr. Barcham said. "Many are incompatible and most are an affront to the community and to the natural beauty of the Valley, again the result of no guidelines or policies, and a lasting reflection of the indifferent attitude which seems to have prevailed in many quarters."

"The planner should be commended for his courageous position," said Mayor Roth. "Some of us have been saying that for years."

In question this time was a request by Okanagan Mobile Villa to develop a mobile home park north of Deighton Road, again by land-use contract.

While the land might be ideal for this, Mr. Barcham said he could not recommend it because "the future of the area around the site is most questionable." While he sympathized with applicants who are "caught in a bind," it would not be practical to recommend uses for land when no uses have been established for land around them.

Good Year For Forest Industry May Be Ruined, Warns Clyne

VANCOUVER (CP) — A potentially good year for the Canadian forest industry is threatened unless governments and labor recognize the danger of falling profits and increasing unemployment, the chairman of MacMillan Bloedel Ltd. said today.

In the company's annual report, J. V. Clyne said the industry faces diminishing returns if it is subjected to further cost burdens without increasing productivity.

Mr. Clyne said MacMillan Bloedel—Canada's largest forest products company—now has withstood two of the most difficult years in its history and achieved some recovery in 1971 from a low point the year before.

But net earnings are "still not representative of a satisfactory return on investment. . . ." he said.

"It is imperative . . . that the company and its employees work together to restore the industry to its former economic health. Only in that way, can the industry continue to generate a stable source of income for employees, government and shareholders."

PROFITS INCREASE

The financial results for 1971, reported earlier, showed total income of $710,246,346, compared with $651,101,304 in 1970. Net earnings were $25,469,025 or $1.22 per share, compared with $17,425,816 or 83 cents a share in 1970. The 1971 net earnings included extraordinary items worth $3,440,041.

"The absence of widespread work stoppages in the company's operations contributed materially to the partial recovery of profits," said Mr. Clyne.

"Such recovery is likely to continue if there is no return to the disastrous conditions of labor strife which existed in 1970 when work stoppages in the towboat and longshoring industries prevented the movement of logs and the shipment of the company's products."

Smallpox Inspection Enforced

Health inspection is being enforced on all arrivals from Europe following outbreaks of smallpox there. Health Minister John Munro announced Wednesday in Ottawa. Vaccination will be offered to travellers arriving at ports of entry without valid smallpox certificates, he said in a news release. If it is refused, the traveller will be put under surveillance or quarantine.

Consumer Affairs Minister Robert Andras has recommended firmer control by federal and provincial authorities over updating practices used by some automobile manufacturers and distributors. In a news release Wednesday in Ottawa he said provincial car licensing authorities should require that registration forms show the month and year of manufacture. The recommendation follows criticism that some cars being sold as new vehicles are actually two or three years old. Mr. Andras said.

The National Film Board says in Montreal it is returning film of the voyage of the vessel Greenpeace shot by a member of its crew, but that film of the vessel taken by a board cameraman remains board property. Film commissioner Sidney Newman, in a telegram to Ben Metcalfe, the chairman of the Greenpeace Foundation in Vancouver, sponsor of the anti-nuclear-testing trip last November, denied the board was involved in a subterfuge to document views of the Greenpeace crew for "security reasons."

Police said Lacy and Johnson argued, then Lacy burst into the home and shot both Johnson and Johnson's wife, Willie. Johnson died of his wounds. Mrs. Lacy, who was in the home at the time, remained hidden under a bed and escaped injury.

Berrigan Conspiracy Trial
Results In Deadlocked Jury

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The United States government's attempt to prove that anti-war priest Philip Berrigan and six others formed a conspiracy that included a plot to kidnap presidential aide Henry A. Kissinger has resulted in a deadlocked jury.

The jury found Berrigan and a nun who worked with him guilty on seven counts involving letters smuggled in and out of prison, but was unable to agree on the 1,500-word conspiracy count that was the key element in the federal government's case.

That count charged that the seven "did unlawfully, wilfully and knowingly combine" to kidnap Kissinger, blow up heating tunnels under federal buildings in Washington and vandalize draft board offices.

Berrigan remains in prison on other charges while bail has been continued for the remaining defendants until the government decides whether to seek a new trial.

The U.S. District Court jury of nine women and three men added six guilty verdicts Wednesday to the one it had returned Sunday, but said it could not agree on the other three counts in the 10-count indictment.

Left unresolved were the general conspiracy charge involving all seven defendants and two other charges that said two letters involved in the case contained kidnap threats which were mailed in violation of U.S. postal regulations.

In addition to the letter-smuggling conviction against him Sunday, Berrigan was found guilty Wednesday of attempting to smuggle three other letters out of the federal prison in nearby Lewisburg, where he was confined in 1970 for destroying draft board files.

Sister Elizabeth McAlister, 32, an art history teacher from New York City, was convicted of attempting to smuggle three letters in to Berrigan.

Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth face maximum sentences of 10 years for each letter-smuggling count.

The explosion touched off a huge fire which quickly spread to a small housing subdivision nearby. At least three tanks were on fire and several homes were ablaze.

Police quickly evacuated the area and sealed it off. Flames shot hundreds of feet into the air from the burning tanks and authorities said they feared additional explosions.

REHEARSALS IN FULL SWING

There's more to the Kelowna Theatre Players' production, Oklahama, than just mere acting and singing, as depicted by ballet cast rehearsals Tuesday at the Kelowna Theatre. The demanding performance comes in the form of Act 1, and requires some graceful body contortions by fleet-footed players with a flair and talent for physical drama. The production is scheduled April 18 to 22, and reserve seats are currently on sale at the Bank of British Columbia as well as the box office. (Courier photo).

Stevens Road Location For Septic Tank Dump

If you have to put septic tank effluent somewhere, it might as well be in one location. The heavy subject came up again at the regular meeting of the Regional District of Central Okanagan, Wednesday, and when the verbal dust had settled, directors decided to go along with a disposal site off Stevens Road on the west side of Okanagan lake. The tentative waste disposal location choice was the result of a meeting with South Okanagan Health Unit director, Dr. D. A. Clarke and seven tank truck operators March 24, which followed another meeting with the health unit director and the board. It was suggested the use of a sanitary landfill would solve the odor problem of septic tank disposal. The situation was labelled a "stinking" problem by M. C. Jennings at a Feb. 3 meeting of the board, and he was appointed to head a committee to meet with Dr. Clarke to head up the offensive headache. In recommending the landfill scheme, Dr. Clarke said septic tank effluent could be covered by garbage and soil as part of the operation. In a subsequent letter to the board dated March 27, Dr. Clarke said tank truck operators recommended in the interim of using the Stevens Road site, the board could investigate alternate sites on Crown land in the Post Lake Road area and South Kelowna area near the West Kootenay power station to obviate the necessity of long haulage.

Commercial effluent disposers also requested the board obtain permission from Peachland for use of its garbage dump, but Dr. Clarke explained the board had no authority to do so under current letters patent, and would await recommendations from operators before proceeding further. The land fill site, being supplied by Rod King of Westbank, was reviewed by Dr. Clarke March 15 in company with two members of the environmental engineering branch. Dr. Clarke said both he and engineers felt the operation was "satisfactory," adding if the suggested solution does not prove feasible a further meeting with the board would be called to discuss aspects which were not working out.

Dr. Clarke suggested the board consider suggestions by tank truck operators as outlined, as well as pursue the possibility of amending letters patent to establish control of other sites and licence operators in the business. Following a report of complaints from residents near the Stevens Road site, conveyed to the meeting by D. A. Pritchard, the board did decide an investigative team, comprised of a board staff member, regional director and a health unit representative survey the area to confirm if complaints were "valid."

SEEN and HEARD

City representative of the Regional District of Central Okanagan, Mayor Hilbert Roth, tempered the normally sober board meeting Wednesday with some humorous touches. During discussion on a house removal from Kelowna to Rutland, His Worship said he hated to see the dwelling leave the city, but was fortified in the thought the home might be replaced with a more tax-assessable abode. Mayor Roth also admitted good naturedly, that Rutland had "some" good residential areas.

Aldermen spent some time Tuesday night wrangling over a request from the B.C. Recreation Association that the city submit a bid for hosting the 1973 recreation conference. They finally decided to receive and file it. Commented one alderman, "It's pretty sad news when this request was received on Feb. 21 and took this long to get in front of us." Deadline for a submission was March 31.

Crane Boom, Car Collide

A Rutland woman, Mrs. Gerda Strand, was reported in satisfactory condition in Kelowna General Hospital today, after being injured in a freak mishap Wednesday afternoon on Highway 97.

A car driven by her husband was in collision with the boom of a crane working on a city project near Ponderosa Road. Police estimated total damage resulting from the accident at about $1,000.

REGIONAL BOARD

No Objection To Hotel Permit

Against the advice of its technical planning committee, the Regional District of Central Okanagan board said Wednesday it had no objections to an application for a pollution control permit for a hotel in Rutland.

Alphonse Luknowsky plans to build the Belgo Arms Motor Hotel at Belgo and Gray roads. He has applied to the B.C. Pollution Control Board for the permit, and percolation tests were conducted Tuesday at the site.

The technical planning committee said the site area is too small, and the matter should be tabled for a report from the provincial board.

"There is no reason it should be turned down," protested Mel Marshall, Rutland director, holding up two letters from pollution control board officials expressing their pleasure with the arrangements. "There is wonderful drainage there."

Directors said they did not object to the application. However, they did agree with a request to defer approval of another pollution control application in Rutland.

All-Star Holdings of Kelowna wants to put a commercial development along Highway 33. South Okanagan Health Unit is conducting nitrate tests, and first reports indicate the concentration in soil in the area is "alarming," so consideration of the request should be tabled until the unit presents its report. The committee also suggested the provincial government be asked for more legislation governing packing plants, which produce the nitrates.

No objections were raised to an application by Westbank Irrigation District in connection with a sewage system.

Chairman W. C. Bennett referred to a conversation he and administrator A. T. Harrison had in Victoria with C. H. L. Woodward, co-ordinator of programs and services, B.C. municipal affairs department. Devlopers have asked the board to maintain sewage disposal systems.

Board solicitors have said that, if the regional district maintains systems, National Housing Act money will be made available to developers, so the board has violated the municipal act by helping a commercial enterprise get money.

Mr. Woodward said the district could consider the matter under land-use contracts provided all systems could be connected to a metropolitan system.

on ground surfaces. Another danger is the gas is readily transported by wind changes to other areas.

Andy Duncan, Westbank representative, said people there have been trained in using equipment presently on hand, the irrigation districts may have to provide their own equipment, and helicopters may not be always available. "This is the best way to solve the situation temporarily," urged Kelowna Mayor Hilbert Roth.

Chairman W. C. Bennett, who uses the gas on his McKinley Landing Road property, asked how a helicopter could land in certain areas. Mr. Whitehouse said that, since chlorine gas stays near the ground, motor vehicles could not get near it. Equipment would have to be landed near the site and packed in.

"Helicopter landing facilities should be made near where the gas is used," suggested Mayor Roth.

"We should buy the equipment," said Mayor Harold Thwaites of Peachland. "There is a complete lack of co-operation among the waterworks districts."

Mr. Whitehouse promised that, when the equipment is bought, the civil defence organization will get keys to buildings in the region where the gas is kept.

March Permit Value Nearly $4.5 Million

Building permit values in the city and district during March this year totalled $4,445,278, with the lion's share, $3,155,843, recorded in the regional district.

City permit values of $1,289,435, represents the highest March figure in a 10-year period from 1962, with the second highest in 1965 at $976,919. Building permit value in March, 1971, was $503,581.

Highest building value in the city last month, $1,135,000, was represented in three new commercial permits, followed by two new industrial permits worth $60,000 and two permits for new residential at $39,100. There were 10 permits for new signs worth $10,095, and 11 permits for commercial alterations at $29,390. The breakdown includes six permits for residential accessories worth $3,750 and one permit for new industrial alterations at $2,000.

The cumulative city total to March this year was $2,298,443, compared with $722,341 for the same period in 1971.

Martha Kostiuk Mass Saturday

Prayer will be held at the Garden Chapel, Friday at 8 p.m. for Martha Kostiuk, 63, of 930 Coronation Ave., who died Sunday.

Mass will be celebrated at the Ukrainian Catholic Church, Saturday at 10 a.m. Mrs. Kostiuk is survived by two sons, Nestor of Kelowna and Peter of Edmonton; one daughter, Mrs. Ted Miller of Downsview, Ont., nine grandchildren also survive. Her husband Metro died July 8, 1971. Burial will follow the Mass, at the Kelowna Cemetery.

IN COURT

James Thomas Crofton, of Kelowna, received a suspended sentence and was placed on probation for one year after pleading guilty to a charge of wilful damage, laid following an incident in a local pizza parlour March 22.

Mr. Crofton was also ordered to pay restitution in the amount of $200 for damage done to plates, coffee pots and a water tank.

Henry R. Hobson, of Kelowna, was fined $25 for failing to stop for a police officer. The charge was laid March 17, after Mr. Hobson went through a police roadblock near Greenwood. He was forced to the side of the road by the police car after a two-mile chase. He told the court today he thought the police were stopping traffic on the opposite side of the road and couldn't hear the car's siren when being chased.

Anthony Chase, of Kelowna, was fined $250 after a guilty plea was entered on a charge of driving a motorcycle without insurance.

Civil Defense Gets $3,000 To Handle Escaping Chlorine

The Regional District of Central Okanagan board wants to be prepared against chlorine gas leaks.

Civil defence co-ordinator Harold Whitehouse of Kelowna was authorized Wednesday night to buy about $3,000 worth of equipment. Tentative arrangements have been made for it to be stored at the city fire hall, and taken to emergencies by helicopters from City Park.

When the initial request was made in January, the co-ordinator was asked to find out how much equipment is presently in the region. He said little training was provided in how to use it, there was no protective clothing or cylinder capsa-tors, and two air packs, with two more on order.

Mr. Whitehouse supported the opinion of an unidentified waterworks superintendent who said the board was taking the matter too lightly, pointing to chlorine leaks in several places.

Chlorine is used mainly for domestic water purposes for purification and is supplied in liquid form to the user. When exposed to open air, the chemical turns to gas which can be toxic in the sense it removes oxygen.

The gas is two-and-a-half times heavier than air and has a yellowish color easily discernible to the eye as it lies

Area 'Well On Way' To Control Of Dogs

A meeting with Attorney-General L. R. Peterson on control of stray canines was described by W. C. Bennett, chairman of the Regional District of Central Okanagan, as affording the promise of "we're well on our way to dog control."

In a written report of the meeting, read at the regular session of the board Wednesday, chairman Bennett said Mr. Peterson, "after due consideration," stated his office would have no objection to authority by the board to licence dogs providing the area serviced under the function was exempted from the provisions of the Sheep Protection Act (administered by the Department of Agriculture).

The board had earlier petitioned the Department of Municipal Affairs for a dog licensing function, but was informed by that agency a more "preferable approach" would be to give the board the power of animal impounding without licensing authority.

Under the Sheep Protection Act, no provision is made for the kind of dog control necessary to cope with stray canines in the regional district. A follow-up letter was also sent by the board to the Department of Municipal Affairs requesting discussion of the matter with the Department of Agriculture, chairman Bennett reported.

DISTRICT BRIEFS

Regional Board Opposes Lease Looks For Insect Inspector

Five years without action is too long for a foreshore lease, the Regional District of Central Okanagan has decided.

A renewal application to the provincial government for foreshore leasing of 2.83 acres of waterfront acreage in the Tradex Cove area by L. N. R. Laughton Building Ltd., 2023 Sterling Place, was opposed by the board Wednesday.

Eain Lamont said nothing had been done with the property by the company in question since it leased the Crown land five years ago with the original intent of providing a marina facility.

The board also decided to confine its headquarters expansions plans to the same address at 540 Groves Ave., rather than fragment operations to available facilities across the street which would incur greater expense.

The regional body is also on the lookout for a new noxious insect inspector and will also advertise noxious insect bylaw regulations, the meeting was informed by administrator, A. T. Harrison.

Directors approved a request by Andrew Duncan for authorization to investigate provision and maintenance of park facilities, as well as holding of a referendum for parks in the Westbank area.

The board also noted intention of closure by Canadian National Railway of a freight and passenger shelter at Winfield announced through the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Approval was given for a grant-in-aid of four dollars for purchase of garbage bags by the First Kelowna Ranger Company City Guides of Canada who are conducting a "mashathon" April 15.

Rev. R. D. Anderson will celebrate the Mass. Burial will follow in the Kelowna Cemetery.

Unsettled

Sunny skies are here again, but so are the clouds, according to the weatherman in his forecast for Friday. A few afternoon showers and gusty winds complete the forecast. Highs near 50 degrees, high and low in the city Wednesday was 54 and 38 with .06 inches of rain, compared to a pleasant 56 and 40 with .12 inches of rain for the same day at the airport. Overnight low today expected in the mid-30s.

DORMITORY WORK STARTED

After two years of planning, the sod was turned officially Wednesday on the site of a residence for retarded children adjacent to Sunnyside School. Doing the honors is Elsie Clark, secretary of the retarded children's association building committee while looking on are, left to right, Earl Anthony, vice-president of the association; Dave Chapman, project chairman; John Woodworth, architect; and Sandy Sandberg, of Busch Construction, whose bid of $110,976 was accepted for the construction. The building, which is scheduled for completion in September, will house 14 children in 10 single-bed units and two double-bed units. The city donated the land for the residence, on Bernard Avenue, while the provincial government contributed $45,000, and the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation loaned $84,000 for the project. Another $15,000 remains to be raised to furnish the building, which will also include a large family room, kitchen facilities and a suite for the parents who will run the operation. —(Courier photo).

This Man Was Insane But Will Made Sense

In the pocket of an old ragged coat belonging to one of the insane patients of the Chicago poorhouse, there was found, after his death, a will.

According to Barbary Boyd, in the Washington Law Reporter, the man had been a lawyer, and the will was written in a firm, clear hand on a few scraps of paper.

So unusual was it that it was sent to another attorney, and so impressed was he with its contents that he read it before the Chicago Bar Association.

A resolution was passed ordering it probated and it is now on the records of Cook County, Illinois.

This is the will of the insane patient of the Chicago poorhouse:

I, Charles Lounsbury, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make and publish this my last will and testament, in order, as justly as may be, to distribute my interests in the world among succeeding men:

That part of my interests, which is known in law and recognized in the sheep-bound volumes as my property, being inconsiderable and of no account, I make no disposition of in this my will. My right to live, being but a life estate, is not at my disposal, but, these things excepted, all else in the world I now proceed to devise and bequeath.

ITEM: I give to good fathers and mothers, in trust to their children, all good little words or praise or encouragement, and all quaint and pet names and endearments; and I charge said parents to use them justly, but generously, as the deeds of their children shall require.

ITEM: I leave to children inclusively, but only for the term of their childhood, all, and every, the flowers of the field, and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely according to the custom of the children, warning them at the same time against the thistles and the thorns. And I devise to the children, the banks of the brooks and the golden sands beneath the waters thereof, and the odors of the willows that dip therein, and the white clouds that float high over the giant trees.

And I leave the children the long, long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways and the night and the moon and the train of the Milky Way to wonder at, but subject nevertheless, to the rights hereinafter given to lovers.

ITEM: I devise to boys, jointly, all the idle fields and commons where ball may be played, all pleasant waters where one may swim, all snow-capped hills where one may coast, and all the streams and ponds where one may fish, or where, when grim winter comes, one may skate, to have and to hold the same for the period of their boyhood. And all meadows, with the clover-blossoms and butterflies thereof; the squirrels and birds and echoes and strange noises, and all distant places, which may be visited, together with the adventures there to be found. And I give to said boys, each his own place at the fireside at night, with all pictures that may be seen in the burning wood, to enjoy without hindrance and without any incumbrance of care.

ITEM: To lovers, I devise their imaginary world, with whatever they may need, as the stars of the sky, the red roses by the wall, the bloom of the hawthorn, the sweet strains of music, and aught else they may desire to figure to each other the lastingness and beauty of their love.

ITEM: To young men jointly, I devise and bequeath all boisterous inspiring sports of rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness and undaunted confidence in their own strength. Though they are rude, I leave them to the powers to make lasting friendships, and of possessing companions, and to them exclusively, I give all merry songs and brave choruses to sing with lusty voices.

ITEM: And to those who are no longer children, or youths, or lovers, I leave memory, and bequeath to them the volume of the poems of Burns and Shakespeare and of other poets, if there be any, to the end that they may live the old days over again, freely and fully without tithe and diminution.

ITEM: To the loved ones with snowy crowns, I bequeath the happiness of old age, the love and gratitude of their children until they fall asleep.

IT HAPPENED IN CANADA

It's True He's First Black MP But Linc Doesn't See It That Way

OTTAWA (CP) — When Lincoln Alexander, Conservative MP for Hamilton-West, first came to Parliament Hill in 1968, the press kept referring to him as Canada's first black MP.

Which was true.

But Linc, to use the name by which he is known here, said: "Dammit, I'm just an MP like the 263 others. I'm not here because I'm black. I'm here because I was elected as MP for Hamilton-West. Period."

It is a long time since the press has referred to Linc as the first black MP in the Commons.

But in the heavy political give-and-take in the Commons, some MPs still seemed to defer to Mr. Alexander.

But that's all done with, too. Agriculture Minister H. A. Olson heckled Mr. Alexander throughout a Commons speech and Jack Cullen, Liberal MP for Sarnia-Lambton, described it as "the second lousy speech I have heard tonight."

Mr. Cullen did not identify the first lousy speech he had heard.

SAME TREATMENT

Mr. Alexander said in an interview that he always has been treated like every other MP.

And he said that he does not consider it relevant for the press to refer to him being black even when he deals with a racial subject.

"Nobody refers to any other MP being white when he refers to anything racial," Mr. Alexander said.

Some black militants, he said, have tried to insist that he is a spokesman for blacks.

"Nothing doing," Mr. Alexander says. "I don't speak for blacks any more than anyone else. I was elected mainly by whites. I am just the MP for Hamilton-West. Period."

Reports of the number of Conservatives seeking the party nomination in Lanark-Renfrew-Carleton apparently were exaggerated.

Only six are in the race so far with perhaps two more to come. Early reports put the number at 14 possible.

The contest is so hot that all-candidate meetings are being held in advance of the nominating convention April 15 at Arnprior.

The riding now is held by Liberal Murray McBride.

The national executive and parliamentary caucus of the Conservative party discussed campaign plans at a private meeting here Wednesday.

Pulp And Paper Industry Braces For Another Struggle

By PETER LEICHNITZ

Canada's pulp and paper industry, still reeling from the economic hardships suffered in 1970 and 1971, is bracing itself for another struggle in 1972.

The industry is faced with two major problems, over-capacity and shrinking profit margins.

The over-capacity is the result of major expansion programs undertaken in the '60s when the industry, in general, failed to anticipate a decline in world demand for paper products.

The Canadian Pulp and Paper Association reported earlier this year that newsprint demand outside North America decreased in 1971 for the first time since the Second World War.

Demand in North America eased by about 3.3 per cent, the second consecutive year of decline.

R. Moore, president of Price Co. Ltd., said in the company's annual report that "the excess of capacity over demand . . . means that about 10 per cent of world newsprint production capacity will be idle during the coming year."

SOME MILLS CLOSED

The unexpected drop in demand has resulted in production cuts and temporary closings in mills across the country.

Quebec and the Atlantic provinces have been particularly hard-hit by the shutdowns. All told about 2,000 jobs were involved.

Earnings by the country's leading pulp and paper manufacturers have shrunk to record lows and spokesmen for the industry say there is little or no relief in sight.

MacMillan Bloedel, Canada's largest pulp and paper manufacturer, reported earnings of $25.3 million in 1971, up from $17.4 million a year earlier. In 1969 the company had a net profit of $42.5 million.

The industry's profit margin was dealt a severe blow with the floating on June 1, 1970, and subsequent rise in value of the Canadian dollar. The higher foreign exchange value of the dollar meant reduced profits on export pulp and paper sales when foreign currencies were converted back to Canadian funds.

Canadian pulp and paper manufacturers export more than half of their production.

Abitibi Paper Co. Ltd. estimates the freeing of the Canadian dollar reduced its profit by about $3 million last year. The company reported a 1971 profit of $4.8 million, compared with $4.6 million in 1970 and $12.1 million in 1969.

COSTS INCREASING

The industry also is having difficulty controlling skyrocketing costs.

"Of these the most notable are the seriously higher levels of taxation and transportation costs" for Canadian manufacturers in relation to their chief competitors in other countries, the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association says.

Price increases, however, are not the answer to the industry's problems.

Mr. Moore, of Price Co., says price increases this year will be modest "because the Canadian newsprint industry is closely linked to that of the United States and Canadian newsprint is not likely to command a higher price than that received by U.S. suppliers."

Price controls by the U.S. government have kept newsprint price increases in that country to a minimum.

In November, the industry announced a general newsprint price increase of $3 a ton. However, the U.S. government's price-control program delayed the increase until Jan. 1. The increase, when it came into effect, was cut to $3.25 in the southern states and $5 in the rest of the country.

In an effort to conserve as much of their reduced profits as possible paper and forest companies have been drastically reducing or committing dividends generally paid on their stock.

Price increases, however, are not the answer to the industry's problems.

CANADA'S STORY

North Pole Area Is Not Canadian

By BOB BOWMAN

As mentioned in Wednesday's story, Admiral Robert Peary of the United States arrived at the North Pole April 6, 1909. He was the first person to get there successfully.

The North Pole is not part of Canada. It is recognized as being "on the high seas" and does not belong to any nation. However, Peary's achievement is part of Canadian history because he used Sydney, N.S., as a base.

Peary spent 23 years trying to get to the North Pole before he was successful. In his book The North Pole he wrote:

"I have a tender feeling for the picturesque town of Sydney. Eight times I headed north from there on my Arctic quest. My reason for choosing Sydney as a starting point was because of the coal mines there. It is the place nearest Arctic regions where a ship can fill with coal."

Peary sailed from Sydney in July, 1908, when he made his successful trip to the pole. As his ship Roosevelt left the harbor he received a wireless message, "Good-bye and a prosperous voyage," to which he replied "Thank you" and dipped the Roosevelt's flag in salute.

From Sydney he sailed to Grant Land where he spent the winter and began his dash to the pole from Cape Columbus on March 1. He arrived at the pole on April 6 and achieved what men had been trying to do for 100 years. Now it is possible for aircraft to land there.

Two Crash Victims Identified

BURNABY (CP)—Two youths killed last Friday in nearby Maple Ridge when their car overturned and caught fire were identified by RCMP Wednesday as Allan Cole Hutton, 20, and Terry Allan Olson, 15, both of Burnaby. A third youth injured in the accident, Ronald Nagy, 18, of Burnaby, was released from hospital Monday. An inquest is to be held.

SHOT IN SPINE
VANCOUVER (CP)—Gordon Andrews, 18, of Vancouver was reported in fair condition in hospital Wednesday night following the removal of a .22-calibre bullet from the spinal area. Police found the wounded man in his apartment. Andrews was said to have told friends that "someone did it some time ago."

REPORT TURNED IN
VANCOUVER (CP)—A preliminary report on an investigation into charges that engineering students harassed mathematics professors at the University of British Columbia has been handed over to Liam Finn, dean of engineering. The charge were made after the publication last month of two engineering student newsletters which were described by several mathematics professors as being racist and discriminatory. A committee is investigating the charges.

TUNNEL TO START
WEST VANCOUVER (CP)—Construction of a tunnel to replace a two-mile stretch of twisting track on the B.C. Railway line will start May 11, a railway spokesman said Wednesday. The 4,600-foot tunnel will cut out that section of track above Fishermen's Cove where a number of boxcars derailed in February, plunging down a cliff and causing extensive damage to one house.

BAIL DENIED
VANCOUVER (CP)—Restaurant operator Thomas Fung, 45, was committed for trial by a judge and jury Wednesday on charges of trafficking in drugs by selling heroin to undercover police officers. Provincial court Judge John Anderson refused to reduce the $55,000 bail which has kept Fung in jail since his arrest last Dec. 1. The Crown opposed bail reduction, saying undercover officers who worked on the case had been threatened. The case involves alleged sales to undercover officers of heroin with a street value of $200,000 for which they paid $18,900.

BLASTS DIGEST
PENTICTON (CP)—Mayor Frank Laird said Wednesday he will write to the publisher of Reader's Digest to complain about a Digest article which stated water pollution put Skaha Lake in a serious, disease-ridden condition in 1968. Mayor Laird said reports on the lake's condition by two university students were "blown out of proportion." The mayor also took exception to the article's statement that third-stage sewage treatment plants are "non-existent" in Canada. He noted that Penticton has such a plant.

Mother Wins Tug-Of-War With Croc

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuter)—A British mother told Wednesday how she played a nightmare game of tug-of-war with a crocodile which was holding her seven-year-old son in its jaws.

Mark Radley, screaming with arms outstretched, was dragged by a crocodile through reeds beside a pool at Buffalo Springs, a picnic spot 180 miles northeast of Nairobi. "I will never forget the look of absolute terror on his face," said Carole Radley of Huddersfield, Yorkshire, who splashed through the water and grabbed her son by the shoulders.

The crocodile, which had interrupted an Easter picnic, let go, then pounced again. But other vacationers formed a human chain, pulling Mrs. Radley, Mark and the crocodile to the bank where the boy's father, David jumped astride it and tried to pry open its jaws.

The reptile released the boy when helpers slashed at it with a knife. Helpers drove 10 miles to radio for Kenya's flying doctor service, while Mark was given first aid by a trained nurse who was on the spot. Mark, not seriously hurt, is recovering in hospital, and his father, who is doing veterinary research here, is nursing hand lacerations.

Twin Sister Serves As Maid Of Honor

White 'mums decorated the altar at St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Okanagan Mission, when Laureen Elizabeth Cole exchanged marriage vows with Clark Cameron Johnston of Kelowna. Her twin sister Elaine Cole of Vancouver served as maid of honor for the mid-afternoon ceremony conducted by Rev. Donald Kidd. Mrs. T. W. Daniel presided at the organ.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Cole of Kelowna, chose an original gown of white sheer plisse over taffeta. Long Juliet sleeves completed the gown which featured a square neckline with lace and pearl trim. The three-tiered skirt fell prettily and bright spring flowers formed her arrangement of brightly colored 'mums and baby's breath.

The maid of honor wore a gown of pale yellow leno gay with tiny bright yellow and pink flowers, fashioned on lines similar to her sister's gown. She carried a nosegay of yellow and pink flowers.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Johnston of Kelowna, was attended by Greg Cretin of Vancouver, a best man and David Cole, brother of the bride, as groomsman.

An ivory afternoon dress was Mrs. Cole's choice for the wedding and reception which followed at their home. Navy accessories completed her ensemble which was complemented with a corsage of yellow roses.

The groom's mother assisted in receiving the guests, wearing a navy and white dress with red accessories. A corsage of red roses added contrast.

RESIDE HERE

Ken Carter, a cousin of the bride, proposed the toasts. The bride's table which was covered with a white lace cloth, was centred with the wedding cake.

Out-of-town guests were: Greg Cretin, Elaine Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Brett Small, Marcia Butler, Gerry Haklander and Mrs. K. Sullivan and daughter Frances, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Carter of North Vancouver and Mark Johnston of Cranbrook.

Bright 'mums and baby's breath topped the cake which was flanked with white tapers. For her going away outfit the bride chose a two-piece ensemble of black with orange polka dots. A corsage of gold 'mums with black trim and black accessories completed her ensemble.

The couple will make their home at 861 Francis Ave., Kelowna.

Several games were played, prizes were given out and coffee and lunch completed the evening.

WENATCHEE ROYALTY

Second Time Round For Father Mom Was Apple Blossom Queen, Too

History repeated itself on Tuesday when 17-year-old Pam Murray of Wenatchee, Washington State Apple Blossom Festival Queen, visited Kelowna. On April 20, 1949 Pam's mother, the former Portia Thornton visited Kelowna serving in the same capacity.

Queen Pam, a senior at Wenatchee High School says, "It's the second time round for dad, too, because he was mom's escort at the Queen's ball in 1949."

The pretty dark eyed brunette was accompanied on the good-will tour of the Valley this week by her two princesses, Patti Burgener and Robin Curtis; two chaperones, Mrs. Ray Shutt and Mrs. Bob Salmon. Escorting the five was Wenatchee Chief of Police, Bill Reich who has been enjoying this privilege for a number of years and is no stranger to Kelowna.

The apple blossom festival from May 5 to 13 is held each year at the wonderful town of Wenatchee, boasting a population of 18,200, according to Pam. "We also have a wonderful football team," she confided, adding that they had won the state championship.

She was also enthusiastic about the musical and dramatic talents in Wenatchee, who are currently producing The Music Man.

Majoring in musical education, she plans to further her career in this field. In addition to playing the violin in the school orchestra, she directs the junior orchestra and teaches violin privately. She is in her ninth year in violin.

The music program in the educational system in Wenatchee, she explains with pride, starts in the lower grades and is open to all students—no aptitude tests are required.

While talent is considered in the selection of the Royalty at Wenatchee, they also have to give impromptu speeches; first before the whole student body who ballot on the first round of applicants. Allotted the topic "If I Could be a Worm in the Garden of Eden, and followed through with the apple theme."

As one of the 10 finalists, appearing before the whole town, in a public event, she was given the subject, "If I Could Be . . . She completed the sentence with 'sunshine' and spoke on the need for warmth and happiness in people's hearts. Final selection was made on March 14 by five out-of-town judges.

PRINCESSES

To participate in the Washington State Apple Blossom Festival isn't a new experience for pretty 17-year-old Patti Burgener, but it is the first year that she has played a leading role in the annual event.

Miss Burgener, a senior at Wenatchee High School, was selected as one of two princesses to the queen, and the attractive trio are making their way through the Okanagan to publicize the Apple Blossom Festival.

The last couple of weeks have been hectic for Miss Burgener, already busy with a number of school activities.

The decision to run for festival queen wasn't a hard one to make for Patti, who was in the festival parade at the age of eight dressed as a golfer. She has been taking a part in the festivities for 12 years, and to run for queen was the next natural step.

Miss Burgener will be attending Seattle Pacific College next year, majoring in music. She has taught piano for four years, with interest in classical, folk and popular music.

She hopes to continue in music after leaving college, either performing or teaching. "I would rather perform classical pieces, because they are more challenging. I like popular music but it is rather simple," she said.

Her interest in music has put her in a number of school music groups: one group, belanto, is a school choir that performs in a number of places in Washington and Oregon. Other school activities include drill team, honor society, girls' club and a swing choir. These interests haven't left her much time for sports, although she was on the tennis team last spring and will take it up again.

FRIENDLINESS

The Okanagan tour is Patti's first actual time in Canada, although she had crossed the border once before with her parents while in Grade 3. She was quite impressed with the communities and the friendliness shown by the people.

When you are as attractive as Patti Burgener, inspiring friendliness is natural.

EASTMONT

Blonde, blue-eyed Apple Blossom Princess, Robin Curtis, 18, is a senior at Wenatchee's Eastmont High School. There are six in her family, including a younger brother and sister and an older married sister. Her father, Bob, has served two terms as Republican representative in the Washington State Legislature for Chelan and Douglas counties. He's up for re-election this year.

While in high school, Robin's interests have revolved around cheer leading and the school's

This week's tour through the Okanagan with Apple Blossom Queen Pam Murray and Princess Patti Burgener has left Robin a little breathless and it's just one of a number coming up, which will include appearances at Spokane's Lilac Festival and the Seattle Sea Fair.

Wenatchee's big splash, the Apple Blossom Festival, happens in mid-May. "We're supposed to be the apple capital of the world, you know," Robin points out with a grin.

She might get a little argument on that one from the world's real apple capital, Kelowna, a city she really didn't get to know during her whirlwind visit.

"But what I've seen, I really like."

MR. AND MRS. STEVEN WARREN
(Pope's Studio)

Spring Flowers Decorate Church

Spring flowers decorated First United Church, Kelowna, for the April 1 wedding of Sharon Judy Cutting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cutting of Rutland and Steven Ray Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Warren, Delta, B.C.

The mid-afternoon ceremony was conducted by Rev. R. J. Stobie. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white chiffon gown with long sheer sleeves. Lace trimmed the front of her full-length gown and a headdress of white chiffon roses held her long veil which was trimmed with matching lace. She carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses with white feathered carnations.

TRADITION
Keeping the 'something old—something new' rhyme she wore borrowed earrings, a blue garter, her new wedding dress and a ring which was a gift. Matron of honor, Mrs. Alex Popoff and bridesmaid Kathie Ekonoft, both of Rutland, wore identical gowns of flowered chiffon over taffeta. Yellow velvet ribbons emphasized the empire waistlines and they carried white carnations tipped in yellow.

Serving as flower girl was Patricia Warren of Delta and Joe Kloppenberg, Armstrong.

ring-bearer was Dean Cutting of Rutland.

Best man was Wayne Lockart of Delta and groomsmen were: Fred Ponikoff of Grand Forks, Larry Cutting of Rutland and Brian Warren of Delta.

For the reception at the Women's Institute Hall, the bride's mother received the guests wearing a blue tulle dress with pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother chose a light yellow dress accented with corsage of white carnations with bronze leaves.

For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver Island, the bride donned a blue suit with white accessories. The young couple will reside at 116 Vernon St., Nelson, B.C.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Warren and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lockart, all of Delta; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cutting, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. M. Tyndall, Mr. and Mrs. Muirhead, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jones, all of Savona; Mr. and Mrs. Herb Timm, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gall and family, all of Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. R. Klarsen, Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. K. Kloppenberg, Armstrong.

PLEASURE POINTERS

The following ideas may help to increase round dance participation and pleasure in your club or class.

1. Be sure you, the caller or leader, show your liking for rounds as a part of the program. Dance and teach them correctly and well.

2. Use a few simple, fun-type rounds and circle mixes from the first night so that dancers will take it for granted that rounds belong with squares and are for everyone.

3. The fundamental positions, steps, etc., of round dancing are just as essential to fun in rounds as are the basic figures of square dancing. Teach basics in small doses and don't worry too much about styling at the beginning. Just set a good example.

4. Stick to two-step dances until you are sure the dancers are solid on rounds and until they have mastered the basic waltz in drill form. Nothing is as futile or discouraging as trying to do a waltz routine when you don't know how to waltz.

5. Encourage experienced round dancers to swap partners with their less talented friends, this makes for good group feeling and wins converts to rounds through the thrill a novice gets when dancing with an expert.

We are often asked why some square dancers skip the rounds. Perhaps the answer lies in one or more of the following reasons.

(a) Inadequate leadership and instructions in round dancing when the dancers were first learning to square dance. The attitude of the caller toward rounds is very important. (b) Insufficient or faulty instruction and "cueing" at square dances.

'Till next week, happy square dancing.

ANN LANDERS

A Real Man Enjoys Success In Others

Dear Ann Landers: I've read several letters in your column from women who gripe because their husbands' jobs make it necessary for them to move around the country. They usually complain that it's bad for the children. I disagree. In fact, it's been very good for our children. I'd like to offer a few suggestions that might help others.

1. Make the children a part of the project. Discuss the move with them, and always in positive terms. Kids take on attitudes of their parents. If Mom is negative and unhappy, it will rub off on the youngsters. 2. Take the children to the new city for a weekend visit. Learn from the chamber of commerce the places of interest. If the visit is fun the kids will view the coming move with enthusiasm.

3. Allow the children to complete the semester if possible. This might mean Dad will be commuting for a while but it's worth it.

4. Keep the inoculation records where you can find them. If they are lost it can be a terrible inconvenience.

5. Treat each new city as if it's the place you're to spend the rest of your life. Join the PTA. Get involved. Give your children the feeling of permanence. They'll adjust better.

We're moving for the fifth time next May and we know we're going to love the new city. Why? Because we've loved every city we've ever lived in. —Abilene, Texas

Dear A. T.: Your last sentence says it all. Thank you.

Dear Ann Landers: What kind of nuttiness is it when a young married woman has such an obsession to be a size 8 that she stuffs herself into sweaters, dresses and coats regardless of how they fit? The only thing she cares about is, "Is it a size 8?" Last week I bought my daughter a pretty housecoat with a zipper down the front. She tried it on and it fit her perfectly. Then she asked, "What size is it?"

I told her I hadn't looked at the size, that I used my eye and decided it would fit her.

When she took it off and discovered it was a size 10 she said, "Do you mind if I exchange it for a size 8?"

I replied, "It's up to you." Last night I saw her in the size 8. It fit her like a sausage casing. The zipper was already pulling away at the seams and she could barely sit down. Will you please tell me what is the magic of a size 8? —Unashamed Size 14

Dear Mother: Your daughter is laboring under the illusion that if she can squeeze her cabbage into a size 8 she'll look like a size 8. Unfortunately, it doesn't work that way. If a garment is too snug, the person who wears it looks fatter, not thinner. Size worshippers can be led astray too because some size 8s are smaller than others, depending on the manufacturer.

Shower Held In Baptist Hall

PEACHLAND (Special) — Eunice Siegrist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Siegrist of Peachland, was guest of honor at a bridal shower held in the Baptist Church Hall last week prior to her marriage to John Martens of Tisdale, Sask. For this occasion the hall was decorated with green and yellow streamers with white wedding bells. The guest of honor, seated under a bridal arch, was helped in opening the many decorative and useful gifts by her mother and Mrs. Ella Ingram of Westbank; the presentation box being decorated with sprigs of wheat representing the groom's occupation.

Mrs. Joe Khlenbach fashioned a bridal hat from the bows and ribbons and the honored guest received an attractive bouquet of spring flowers from the ladies before cutting the bridal cake.

Hostesses of this shower were Mrs. Tom McLaughlan Sr., Mrs. Art Topham, Mrs. Verne Cousins, Mrs. C. O. Whinton and Mrs. Archie Spence.

KDRS Program Starts Saturday

Kelowna and District Retirement Service Activity Centre in First United Church hall will resume activities on Saturday at 1 p.m. Doors will open at 1:30 noon for card playing, while films on the prairie provinces will be shown at 1 p.m. by Karl Schunaman of Winfield.

Following tea the choir will sing a few numbers. The Scottish Dancers under the direction of Mrs. Mavis Russell will be featured, and will later join in with the regular afternoon dancing.

FIRST STEPS FOR NEW HOTEL

Percolation tests for sewage disposal were made earlier this week on the site of the first hotel in Rutland. To be located at Gray and Rutland roads, the Belgo Arms Motor Hotel will be constructed by Alphonse Luknowsky of Rutland. It is hoped construction will begin soon. Application for sewage disposal has been made to the B.C. director of pollution control. Local residents last year voted to allow liquor to be sold. (Courier Photo)

Improvements Planned At Kalamoior Beach Park

Work is underway on the building of two and one-half miles of trails in Kalamoior Beach Park, near Lakeview Heights.

John Cann told the recent annual meeting of the Lakeview Heights Recreation Commission that a federal local initiatives grant had been obtained for the building of walking trails four feet wide in the park. Mr. Cann told the meeting that if the trails were properly installed, it is likely the provincial government would take over their upkeep, plus that of the wharf at Kalamoior Beach and could in the future install change room facilities.

Chairman Clive Gilbert told the meeting that a group of Okanagan College students have applied under the federal Opportunities for Youth program to rebuild the wharf at Kalamoior Beach.

He said that since the old wharf at the beach had disappeared, a new one would have to be built, which may mean a reduced swimming program this summer. A pile driver will be in the area soon and the commission executive will decide whether or not to use it to drive in piles for a new wharf.

Mr. Gilbert also said that another group of Okanagan College students has applied to build trails and install name plates of local flora in the Mount Boucherie map reserve.

OPPOSE GONDOLA
The commission has gone on record as opposing a proposed gondola lift development on Mount Boucherie and a letter written by Mr. Gilbert on behalf of the commission which suggested the developers did not appear to have any definite plans and perhaps were putting forward the idea to get reaction from local people before investing any money.

The meeting carried a motion by Brian Finnemore that the commission not only oppose the project, but ask that the provincial government change the status of the mountain from map reserve to Class C park.

The commission has decided to go ahead with work on property donated by Okanagan Telephone Company behind the new exchange facility and create a playground for children of the area.

Volunteers for the project include Al Hughes, from the telephone company, Janet Bregda, Barbara Christian, Bob Ell, Alf Addison, Warren and Marie Waddell and Brian Finnemore.

Bob Ell, Alex Crouch and Lenore Hewlett were elected to fill vacancies on the commission for terms which will end in the spring of 1973.

Also passed was a motion from Carol Choe that monthly meetings of the recreation commission be open to the general public.

Reports Seemed True, At First Then Bruins Shellacked Toronto

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

For almost two periods Wednesday night it appeared as if all the reports about the injury-ridden Boston Bruins were true.

The powerful Bruins, East Division champions in the National Hockey League, held by Toronto Maple Leafs to a scoreless tie for 37 minutes and 24 seconds in their opening game of the NHL's eastern semi-final.

Then with less than three minutes remaining in the second period, Phil Esposito scored two goals to spark the Bruins to a 5-0 shutout of the Leafs, fourth-place finishers in the East.

The win gave the Bruins a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup quarter-finals with the second game tonight again at Boston Garden.

In the other eastern semi-final game, Vic Hadfield scored twice to give New York Rangers a 3-2 victory over Montreal Canadiens, last year's Stanley Cup champions. Their best-of-seven series also resumes tonight in New York's Madison Square Garden.

PHIL ESPOSITO
... one was enough

most two periods until Mike Walton of the Bruins and Brian Glennie of the Leafs were given majors for fighting at 16:03. Then at 17:24 Esposito scored for the Bruins and added another less than three minutes later to end the second period 2-0.

"I think I had lost a little bit of my sharpness being off for a few games like I was," said Esposito, who had missed most of the last three regularly-scheduled games because of an injury. "I know I passed off a couple of times when I should have shot."

But he said the Bruins played the way they wanted to, waiting for the breaks.

"We were waiting for that first goal, and we were fortunate to get it," he said.

For almost two periods both teams played a close-checking game, playing tight defence and showing little offence. Then Esposito, the league's leading scorer, got those two quick goals and Don Marcotte, John McKenzie and Stanfield added goals in the final period.

THE CAT MEOWS

Emile Francis, general manager-coach of the Rangers, was excited over his team's narrow victory over the Canadiens.

"It's a great way to start the series," said Francis, whose Rangers went into the playoffs without the services of Jean Ratelle, their star centre and top scorer.

The Rangers also have Rod Gilbert skating with a foam collar around his neck, Hadfield playing with a taped right thumb and Bobby Rousseau performing with cuts under his left eye and one over his right one.

But the injuries didn't bother them. Hadfield's thumb might be hurting but his voice was strong enough to shout to Rousseau that he was at the right corner of the Montreal net just before he scored the winning goal.

"Yeah, I try to sneak in there every so often," said Hadfield.

who figured that 30 of his 50 regular-season goals had come from that location. "It's hard for the defenceman to watch you there. He's got to keep an eye on the centre, too."

The centre that time was Rousseau, substituting for Ratelle, the regular pivot for Gilbert and Hadfield. Ratelle is out with a broken ankle.

"I'm doing my best, that's all," said Rousseau, who had fed Hadfield for a goal from that same spot in the opening period.

REBOUNDS ON DRYDEN

Bill Fairbairn, who also killed penalties during the game, scored the other New York goal, beating a rebound during a power play past Montreal goalie Ken Dryden to open the scoring.

Claude Larose tied the score for the Canadiens with only 65 seconds left in the first period but the Rangers moved ahead again when Hadfield scored his first goal with only 28 seconds left in the period.

Frank Mahovlich, who set a playoff scoring record a year ago when the Canadiens won the cup, tied the score for Montreal with 7:48 gone in the third period after the two teams had battled through a scoreless second period which saw New York outshoot Montreal 15-2.

"It scared you sometimes when you have as many good chances as we did in that second period and come out scoreless," Francis said.

Francis, a former goalie, had high praise for Dryden and also his own goalie, Ed Giacomin.

He said he felt the key play occurred in the first period when Giacomin came far out of his net to poke the puck away from Larose, who had broken in behind the entire Ranger team.

Broncos Take The Advantage Trip Essos 5-3 In Overtime

VERNON — Penticton Broncos took a strong advantage in the B.C. Junior Hockey League playoffs by handing Essos a 5-3 overtime setback on Vernon ice Wednesday night.

Broncos lead the best-of-seven series 3-2 and have a chance to wrap up the title when they meet Essos in Penticton tonight at 8 p.m. Goalender Glen Buechert played a key role in the victory as he made 48 saves, four in the 10-minute overtime period. Earl Bowie was called upon to make 36 saves for Vernon, six in the overtime stanza.

Chad Campbell led Broncos with two goals, with singles to Harry Turk, Bob Nicholson and Gerry McMullen. Ernie Gare, with two goals, and Glen Walton replied for Essos.

Broncos took a 2-0 lead after the first period and were out in front 3-2 after the second.

Gare tied the score on a power play goal at 7:14 of the third period to force the overtime, but second place Broncos took control in the extra 10 minutes with goals by McMullen at 5:24 and Campbell at 8:01 for the win.

Essos had five of 12 minor penalties and the lone misconduct.

Game Club Elects Directors More Than 70 Attend Meeting

Twelve directors for two year terms and one for a single year were elected at the Kelowna Fish and Game Club meeting Wednesday night at the Capri.

The directors will pick a club president at their next meeting, to be held next week.

Stan Chatham, Don Ellis, Floyd Eldstrom, Clarence Henderson, Fred Kitsch, Harold Lamoureux, Bruce Moubroy, Bob Porter, Ken Ross, Bill Spear, Jerry Shelley and Jim Treadgold were elected for two year terms.

Dr. Graham Thorkelson was elected for a single year to fill a vacancy on the board. More than 70 people attended the meeting, with a number of topics discussed. The club was assured of a new public access road to Hatheume Lake with provincial financial grant assistance.

Extensive tests on mercury count in large trout show that it isn't as high as earlier believed and they are fit for human consumption, as detailed by a report from fishery biologist Sandy McDonald of the B.C. Fish and Wildlife Branch from Penticton.

The regional district will be prepared for deer control in the interests of conservation of wildlife. Another point was from Don Stewart, who reported that the Fish and Wildlife Department and the Department of Highways were working closely on ways and means of lessening the deer kill on the Peachland - Summerland highway.

Fencing and making adjacent areas away from the highway more attractive to deer by planting deer winter feed are being considered.

The Department of Highways will be asked to keep the South Kelowna-Rutland Road to the Kettle Valley Railway as public access in that area.

Habs, Rangers On Boob Tube

TORONTO (CP) — The CTV national network will televise tonight's National Hockey League quarter-final game from New York between the Rangers and Montreal Canadiens beginning at 5 p.m. our time.

MacLaren Advertising, which holds the rights to Hockey Night in Canada, made the announcement today and also announced television coverage plans for the remaining games in both best-of-seven series.

Ted Hough said MacLaren is attempting to set up a radio network to provide broadcasts of the games in areas not served by CTV affiliated stations.

The CBC, which is unable to televise the quarter-final games on its English-language network because of a labor dispute, announced earlier it will provide radio coverage of all Sunday games, all decisive games in the quarter- and semi-finals and all games in the final.

Oilers Lead Series Win Opener 8-4

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa Oilers scored four goals in the final period to down Fort Worth Wings 8-4 Wednesday in the first game of their best-of-seven Central Hockey League semi-final.

Jean Payette and Jan Popiel each scored twice for the Oilers, while Ralph Stewart had two goals for the Wings. The second game of the series will be played here Friday night.

Form Charts Proven Correct As West Favorites Triumph

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The arm-chair experts, who like to wager a bob or two on the Stanley Cup playoffs were in luck Wednesday night if they followed the form charts.

Chicago Black Hawks and Minnesota North Stars, who finished 1-2 in the West Division, drew first blood in the best-of-seven semi-finals, as the Hawks topped Pittsburgh Penguins 2-1 and the North Stars slamed the door on St. Louis Blues 3-0.

The Hawks and Penguins meet again tonight in Chicago, then shift to Pittsburgh for the third and fourth games Saturday and Sunday.

The North Stars are hosts to the Blues again tonight, with the next two games slated for St. Louis Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Penguins, who had to struggle every inch of the way during the last two weeks of the schedule to earn a playoff berth, appeared to fade in the third period against the Hawks.

PENGUINS SCORE FIRST

The momentum of their play-off drive carried over into the first period Wednesday night as Bobby Leiter put Penguins on the board less than two minutes after the opening face-off.

Coach Red Kelly's squad hung on grimly until late in the period, when centre Pit Martin, collaborated with veteran Jim Pappin to tie the score.

The teams engaged in a scoreless second-period duel, but early in the third, Pappin sank the winning goal and Martin clinched the outcome with his second goal of the contest at 16:37.

Pappin's goal was scored while Hawks were playing shorthanded, with Dennis Hull serving a minor penalty.

The Penguins set their power-play up inside the Chicago blue line, but when Al McDonough's shot from the point was blocked by defenceman Bill White, Martin recovered the puck and raced down the wing to feed a perfect pass to Pappin. His shot easily beat goalie Jim Rutherford.

EXPERIENCE PAYS

Experience paid off for the North Stars in Minnesota as three of their elder statesmen played prominent roles in the triumph. Their work was almost overshadowed by four separate fights which produced 80 minutes in penalties.

Gump Worsley, Minnesota's 42-year-old goalie, came up with his fifth NHL playoff shutout and ran his unbeaten streak against the Blues to nine in a row during the last two regular seasons and in the playoffs. He stopped 27 shots.

Dean Prentice, who is crowding 40 years of age, provided the scoring punch with two goals, one in the first period and another early in the third. Bob Nevin, who has also been around the NHL for a long time, was credited with an unassisted marker just past the mid-way mark in the final period.

Garry Unger of St. Louis and Barry Gibbs of North Stars came up swinging first, closely followed by Tom Reid of Minnesota and Phil Roberto of the visitors. Dennis Hextall and Barclay Plager tangled near the end of the period, but the most vicious fight occurred in the second period between Jack Egers of the Blues and Dennis O'Brien of North Stars.

Egers and O'Brien tried to get at one another by climbing over the official scorekeeper's table in the penalty box.

Lawns should be enjoyed not worked on.

Lawn Green is one of the most effective fertilizers available for use on gardens and lawns.

A 22 lb. bag of Lawn Green covers 5,000 sq. ft. of lawn. This is far more than any ordinary, heavy-weight fertilizer can cover. (One of the reasons is that in the heavy-weights, the carrier is a heavy dense material, like sand. In light-weight Lawn Green the carrier is vermiculite, which weighs only a couple of pounds a bushel).

Lawn Green is safe, odourless and encourages steady growth throughout the season.

The 20-10-5 formula means it's a complete balanced plant food.

And the long-lasting, Ureafarm slow-release Nitrogen means that it continues to feed your lawn long after application. So you don't have to use it very often, which is a big improvement over some fertilizers.

Pick up a free copy of the Green Cross Lawn care booklet from your local Green Cross dealer.

Miller, Gaherin In Bullpen Warming Up Controversy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The second day of the season arrived today with no baseball but two rivals—Marvin Miller and John Gaherin—were warming up again in the bullpen.

The players' walkout, which began Saturday and caused an early end to spring training, forced postponement of Wednesday's scheduled opener in Cincinnati between the Reds and Houston Astros, along with the eight contests on today's slate and two games listed for Friday—Philadelphia at St. Louis and Chicago Cubs at Montreal.

With bitter feelings continuing to spew forth from both sides and with Paul Richards, vice-president of Atlanta Braves, warning that there might not be any baseball "for a long, long time," the only encouraging sign was a meeting scheduled in New York today between Miller, executive-director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, and Gaherin, representing the 24 club owners.

Richards said the owners aren't against the players but are "fed up" with Miller and "simply aren't going to let Marvin Miller run over them any more."

Miller's target, meanwhile, was Earl Weaver, manager of Baltimore Orioles. Weaver had said that 21 of his 26 players had been willing to defy the walkout and open the season on schedule. He added that 16 of those 21 had been willing to play an exhibition game last Saturday, the day the strike started.

"If you call that a strike," he said, "then please explain what a strike is or do."

Miller met Wednesday with 18 members of the Orioles in Baltimore and accused Weaver of illegal attempts to break the walkout.

"There's a fine point in labor laws and he's gone way overboard," Miller said, "he attempts to break the strike by using a representative management—which is doing to do with best manager."

"Weaver is entitled to give his opinion and talk to the players, but when he exercises coercion and makes threats direct and implied, that's different."

Brooks Robinson of the Orioles disputed Weaver's version of the balloting.

"Actually," he said, "the vote was 16 to 4 that we would be willing to play, but only if the owners would agree to accept figures of the actuaries on the amount of surplus already existing in the pension fund."

OWNERS FIRM

The latest move came Tuesday night when the owners met in Chicago and reaffirmed their rejection of an offer by the players that a surplus in the pension fund be used to meet their demand for a 17-per-cent cost-of-living increase in retirement benefits.

'Milk For You' 'Beer For Us'

BOSTON (AP) — Derek Sanderson, who is suffering from colitis, an inflammation of the intestine, is commuting to the National Hockey League playoffs from a hospital bed at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Before he returned Wednesday night after Boston's 5-0 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs in the opener of the Stanley Cup quarter-finals, he had this exchange with teammate Phil Esposito, who was about to board the team bus for a motel.

Sanderson: "These guys get on a bus, I get on an ambulance."

Esposito: "You drink milk, we drink beer."

Sanderson: "You go home to a double bed, I go home to an army cot."

Esposito: "You go home to some nurse, I go home to Freddie Stanfield."

Major Upset In Bantam Tourney Favored Toronto Eliminated

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — A major upset marked play Wednesday in the Kamloops international bantam hockey tournament as Melville, Sask., edged high-powered Toronto Red Wing 4-3 in the 'A' section quarter-finals.

Keith Carlson led the winners with two goals as Melville led all the way in the free-wheeling contest in which only one minor penalty was called.

Boston Malden Moose moved into the semis, dumping Burnaby Minor Hockey 9-1. Dan Sullivan scored three goals for Boston and captain Kevin Coughlin added two more.

Malden Moose led 4-0 after one period.

Sarnia, Ont., Navy Vets grabbed the other 'A' semi-final berth, crushing Calgary Bantam Stampede 10-2. Bill Smith had three goals in the third period for Sarnia, while Mike Crombeen had two.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Olympic and world silver medalist Kar Magnussen of North Vancouver received a standing ovation Wednesday night from a crowd of more than 14,000 persons at the Tour of Champions ice show. A roar of welcome erupted as the 20-year-old skating star moved onto the ice at the Coliseum.

It was by far the largest crowd to take in a performance of the Tour of Champions show, which includes a number of world skating champions.

Return Of Bill 88 Certain 'If Socreds Regain Power'

VANCOUVER (CP) — The driving all labor groups together, Vancouver Labor Council has established a $5,000 war chest night for a campaign designed to remove all anti-labor legislation in British Columbia and the politicians responsible for it.

Council secretary Paddy Neale said he hoped the fund would be the first move in an uprising by labor to defeat the Social Credit government in the next provincial election.

Mr. Neale said: "The only reason the government dropped Bill 88 (legislation designed to curb self-protective powers of building trades unions) because the Social Credit politicians are afraid they are friends of labor."

Eye Transplants: Only Part Is Used

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the percentage of success in eye transplants? How soon after death would the eye have to be removed? Transplanted how soon? Could arrangements be made through your regular eye doctor?—J.F.

I omitted the details of your letter as you asked me to. I commend your intentions but a transplant such as you are thinking about, of a complete eye, is not possible.

The part of the eye that is used is the cornea, the transparent outer covering of the eyeball. There are cases in which, because of accident or other hazard, the smooth, clear cornea has been scarred and no longer transmits light clearly. The scarred cornea can be removed and the clear cornea of a good eye transplanted. That method by now has restored good vision for a great many people but it is applicable only when that type of problem is involved, a defect in the cornea. It does not correct problems involving glaucoma, damage to the eye nerve, detached retina and other defects (although some of them can be helped by other means).

An eye, to be used for a transplant of the cornea, should be removed as soon after the donor's death as possible. It is kept refrigerated but the transplant also is performed with the least possible delay. Thus an eye, when available, is carried by plane or other rapid means of transportation to the hospital where it will be used.

Anyone willing to leave his eyes for such use should therefore make known in advance that he is willing to do so, and make arrangements through his doctor (eye doctor or other physician) who in turn can notify those who must be ready to accept the eyes.

Incidentally, the removed eyes are replaced with artificial eyes, with pains being taken to match the color of the eyes even though the donor's eyes will be closed. There is no external sign indicating that the eyes have been removed.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had glaucoma for eight years and understand there is no cure for it. My ophthalmologist says it can only be checked.

The other day a woman told my husband she had been operated on and her glaucoma had been completely cured. Is there such an operation at the present time?—Mrs. M.H.

There is surgery for glaucoma but I would be very cautious indeed about describing it as a "complete cure." That is to say, surgery can be used in advanced cases to reduce the pressure inside the eyeball, which is the basic problem in glaucoma. Many times the operation may help; other times it does not. You may be certain that your ophthalmologist knows about such surgery and would recommend it if you needed it or if it promised to help you more than whatever your present treatment is. No doubt you are receiving medication.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Two years ago my daughter was born with critically low blood sugar, and had to be force-fed glucose in water before breast feeding.

Will she always be hypoglycemic? Should I have her blood sugar checked often?—M.E.L.

Not necessarily. Quite a few infants can have a sharp drop in blood sugar shortly after birth. This usually corrects itself as feeding progresses. Unless she shows signs of low blood sugar, I would leave it to the pediatrician whether to have blood sugar tests.

Opening lead — ten of diamonds.

In assessing his prospects in a suit contract, declarer generally starts by counting his losers. In most hands this will give him a clearer idea of where he stands than if he merely counts his winners.

But this is a rule of convenience only, and declarer should feel free to readjust his sights when the occasion calls for it. If the losing and winning trick count does not add up to 13, there is obviously something wrong with one of them and the situation should be re-examined.

Take this case where West leads a diamond, dummy following low, and East wins with the king. East returns the king of spades, won by South with the ace.

Apparently the only remaining losers are two spades, but when declarer leads the ace of hearts and West shows out, South learns there is a trump loser also.

The 4-0 division apparently presages defeat, but if South goes about his business carefully he can still make ten tricks.

He cashes the ace of clubs, crosses to dummy with a diamond, and ruffs a club. He then leads another diamond and trumps another club.

Next he cashes the K-Q of hearts, ending in dummy, at which point he has already won nine tricks—a spade, two diamonds, a club and two trumps.

When he now leads the ten of clubs East is helpless. East's three remaining cards are the Q-J of spades and jack of hearts, all theoretically winners.

South's three cards are the 6-2 of spades and eight of hearts, all theoretically losers.

If East discards, South ruffs to score his tenth trick; if East trumps the club, South discards a spade and later scores the eight of hearts as his tenth trick. Either way, one of East's winners vanishes.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

Friday, April 7

Aries (March 21-April 19): Routine meets no opposition, but try something new and all sorts of fun develops. Suit your own taste.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): The greater part of the day seems devoted to a low build-up for an evening rush, perhaps some personal celebration.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Gentle and persistent tact through the day brings results in the evening. Long-sought triumphs are at hand. Older people are helpful.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Pleasure and its pursuit tend to crowd out much of today's planned activity, with no particular or irreparable loss involved.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Yesterday's minor errors show up now and no ready correction is in sight. Do the best you can, knowing that all eventually comes out straight.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Continued efforts thrive, new starts falter. Stay with group efforts, avoiding rash adventures. Tall tales for the future are born today.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your initiative releases tension so you can pick up again, perhaps further ahead than where you left off.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): An effort to see the other fellow's viewpoint leads him to see yours more clearly. Get together with old friends for a lively evening.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): It's an adventurous day within the broad borders of your present habits; circumstances may change for the better.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Yesterday's direction can be changed if you care to make a serious effort. A pleasant distraction becomes a main interest in later hours.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Energy builds as the day grows. Bring together obvious extremes, see them merge and come to balance.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): Clear away your backlog of work wherever you can. Domestic questions find answers. Take time to pray now.

GANGS RAIDED

London 'Gang Busters' Active

LONDON (CP) — Police head off the re-establishment of crime syndicates in London's East End continued their raids on suspected homes in the area Wednesday as part of one of the biggest police operations of this kind in recent years.

The raids follow a period of violent rivalry among groups of criminals trying to fill the vacuum left by the breakup of the Kray and Richardson gangs in the late 1960s.

Charles Richardson was sentenced to 25 years in prison in 1967 after witnesses testified about the torture of victims with electric shocks and cigarette burns. His brother, Eddie, was imprisoned for 10 years.

In the other main gang investigation of the 1960s, Reginald Kray and his twin brother Ronald were sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Jack (the Hat) McVitie. Charles Kray, elder brother of the twins, was sentenced to 10 years for being an accessory after the murder.

After the successes in these various cases, Scotland Yard gave permanent status to the special gang-busting squads active in combating such criminal activities as protection rackets.

Lately, in the struggle among younger criminals to fill the vacuum left by the Kray and Richardson rings, there were reports of victims being shot in the arms or legs and gasoline bombs being thrown into the homes and offices of businessmen.

For the past year, detectives have been pressing inquiries into such activities and they concluded that the attacks were part of a plan to terrorize smaller groups into joining a single syndicate intent on overall control of rackets in the East London area.

Raids Thursday by a total of 160 officers netted shotguns, pistols, knives, iron bars and a rifle.

Following this initial operation, which resulted in the questioning of about 20 men, the police staged more raids Wednesday.

Protection rackets in London range from pressure on the owners of night clubs to the strong-arming of businesses as tiny as ice-cream traders operating on the streets of the capital.

Rio Death Toll Mounts To 28

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuter) — The death toll from a series of explosions followed by fire in liquefied gas storage tanks last week has risen to 28 with the deaths from burns of three more men, the state-owned petroleum enterprise Petrobras said.

CRIME RATE UP

BRISBANE (Reuter) — Police will be put back on foot to pound a beat in a bid to cut this Australian city's rising crime rate, the Queensland police department has announced.

Environmentalists Muster To Form Canadian Policy

VANCOUVER (CP) — Environmentalists presented 20 briefs Wednesday to a committee fashioning the Canadian position for a forthcoming United Nations conference on the human environment.

The briefs ranged from complaints about smokers polluting the world to claims by a group of engineers that oil tankers pose a great threat to the Pacific coast.

The one-day hearing was the first of 11 to be held across Canada to solicit public contributions on world-wide environmental issues.

The Canadian view will be presented to the UN conference in Stockholm June 5-16. More than 130 nations are expected to be represented.

The engineers called for all tankers to be constructed with a double hull.

The Canadian coalition to stop the Amchitka nuclear blast said official delegations to Sweden should include at least two observers from outside the government. Canada's representatives will be led by Environment Minister Jack Davis.

CALL FOR COURT

The coalition called for a permanent court for international environmental concern, with power not only to make judgments, but to enforce them.

It said this court should be established outside the UN.

The hearing was attended by a man in a caveman costume, who identified himself as Alvin of the Earthing Survival movement. He made no attempt to take the microphone, but said in an interview that man would move back to square one unless he made a serious attempt to halt environmental decay.

The Burrard branch of the Scientific Pollution and Environmental Control Society said man's environment may collapse under carbon monoxide emissions, and there would be a disruption of the economy through indiscriminate, unchallenged exploration for oil as a source of gasoline.

Jim Bohlen, representing the Greenpeace Association and a member of the crew of the ship Greenpeace which protested the Amchitka nuclear blast, said he had no confidence in the Stockholm conference.

He said he wanted action instead of rhetoric, which would be the result of the upcoming meeting because the UN has no police powers to enforce any decisions.

British Labor Problems Enter Into Rail And Sea Transport

LONDON (CP) — Britain's chronic labor problems, which recently led to a severe national power shortage, now threaten another highly-sensitive sector — rail and sea transport.

With the state-owned British European Airways have already begun a work slowdown over a dispute involving pay and work conditions. In addition, union leaders representing 200,000 railwaymen say they, too, are prepared for industrial action unless their latest wage demands are met.

The rail unions are demanding a 16-per-cent annual increase from the publicly-owned railways board. The board has offered 11 per cent, which would mean a guaranteed income for the lowest-paid workers of about $52 a week, compared with about $47 at present.

Both the offer and the demand would exceed the conservative government's unofficial policy of holding wage increases in the public sector to seven or eight per cent.

A slowdown by the rail unions would mean chaos for hundreds of thousands of Britons.

DEMAND INCREASE

The pilots, who earn between about $7,800 and $23,000, are demanding a 24-per-cent annual increase at the highest income level. BEA has offered a maximum increase of 12.6 per cent and a 4.5-per-cent increase at the lowest salary level.

The pilots' action, which began last Saturday at the height of the Easter tourist rush, has so far caused little disruption in regular services. But union leaders say they are prepared to intensify the slowdown if their demands are not met.

The unions contend that pilots have to pay extremely high insurance premiums out of their salaries and are forced to seek new jobs when they retire at 55. They say that while a pilot's flying hours are limited to 100 every 28 days, he still puts in much additional time on the ground as part of his job.

The rail union chiefs have raised some hope they may scale down their demands slightly to avoid another costly industrial disruption.

Hanoi Stored Lots Of Ammo

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials say North Vietnam has stored up enough war material on each of three fronts to carry the current offensive in South Vietnam through the month.

Recent infiltration rates of men and supplies were said to be the heaviest since the period immediately preceding the 1968 Tet offensive.

South Vietnamese diplomatic sources, calling it a three-front war, point out that action already has flared south of the demilitarized zone, and along a second front in the Central Highlands. The third front is along the border of central Cambodia.

On each of these lines, there are at least three North Vietnamese divisions, or, 30,000 to 40,000 men on each front.

In a matter of two to three weeks the Communist drive will be contained, the Vietnamese say.

U.S. spokesmen say the North Vietnamese have not yet committed all their ground forces to the action.

U.S. sources speculate that Hanoi has moved on South Vietnam to demonstrate to the world that it can strike whenever it desires, regardless of the U.S. presence, and that it is willing to pay a price.

There is also the desire to embarrass the Nixon administration during the U.S. presidential election campaign, the diplomats say.

The North Vietnamese attack now, it is believed, would also have an impact in Moscow and Peking, the sources of North Vietnamese supplies. In such a situation, neither Moscow nor Peking could reduce the flow of supplies to Hanoi without endangering the whole North Vietnamese effort.
